

This work must contain a notification like the next example:

“I undersign, certificate that I do not have any financial or personal relationships that might bias the content of this work.”

If such relationship does exist, this have to be disclosed and described.

This should apply to all original papers, including original research, editorials, state of the art papers, brief reports, case reports, images in medicine, and also for comments on clinical trials.

Best Regards,

..... ,

Author